Pasta May Not Be The Best Choice For Dinner...Former gourmet chef and now food and wine writer, Nicki, was enjoying a relaxing evening at her favorite restaurant when everything went wrong! First, she finds the hostess face down in a plate of pasta with a butcher knife in her back, and then ends up in the back of a police cruiser, with a stern warning ringing in her ears not to get involved in the chief's murder investigation. Like she did the last time she stumbled across a dead body. But this time is different. Nicki knew the victim. She's also running into suspects at every turn. And the only one she's positive is innocent, is the one who the chief arrests. The victim's loveable, seventy-year-old boyfriend is a favorite resident of the town, as well as famous for making the worst wine in the county. And no matter what the chief says, Nicki is sure he has the wrong man. All she has to do is prove it. But how is she ever going to sort through so many suspects? It's going to take a lot of work, and a good amount of help from her close friends who've formed their own food and wine club, to discover who really left the hostess lying dead on her dinner plate. Dinner, Drinks and Murder is the Ever give a party for child and it turned out to be boring and even you wanted to leave the party? Kids themes parties have been rising over the years. Whether it's superhero, movie, book, cartoon, etc? theme; theme parties are becoming more and more popular. The question is though, is what type of party do you want to give your child that will be memorable for everyone? Kids and adults alike? I once gave my son a carnival themed party. He was a very young age and I wanted children and adults that were friends and family to enjoy it. It took about three months to plan, but it turned out wonderful. I had so many people tell me that it was the best kid's party that they had ever attended. It made me feel great! So, now I will share with you how I went about planning it.

not an act. This book was featured in the December 2013 Railfan and Railroad Magazine as the first Dinner Train Mystery to be written since 1999.

Mystery writer Jessica Fletcher takes a three-night train trip with her friend and his railroad association through scenic British Columbia. But when a member of the entourage takes a sip of a Bloody Mary and dies, police begin investigating. The suspects gather in the Starlight Express dinner car, and it's up to Jessica to do some unplanned sleuthing before everyone's plans are derailed by death.

Giles Jones, an out of work newspaperman sat on a bench watching the Thames flow by. There was a lot of traffic up and down the river at this time of night. Boats full of revellers were going past lights blazing, and music blaring. He had his camera on the seat beside him, just one good picture was all he needed. Something splashed in the water up stream from him, as it got nearer he thought it was a small boat, it had two lanterns and a bell on a rod which tinkled. It was a child's coffin and in the soft glow of the lanterns he could see that there was an occupant. This was the first victim of the Messenger of Death.

Sage Caplin is opening a new coffee cart in Portland, Oregon, but a killer is brewing up a world of trouble... Portland is famous for its rain, hipsters, craft beers...and coffee. Sage Caplin has high hopes for her coffee truck, Ground Rules, which she runs with her business partner, Harley--a genius at roasting beans and devising new blends. That's essential in a city where locals have intensely strong opinions about cappuccino versus macchiato--especially in the case of one of Sage's very first customers... Sage finds the man's body in front of her truck, a fatal slash across his neck. There's been plenty of anger in the air, from long-time vendors annoyed at Ground Rules taking a coveted spot in the food truck lot, to protestors demonstrating against a new high-rise. But who was mad enough to commit murder? Sage is already fending off trouble in the form of her estranged, con-artist mother, who's trying to trickle back into her life. But when Sage's very own box cutter is discovered to be the murder weapon, she needs to focus on finding the killer fast--before her business, and her life, come to a bitter end...

'With fascinating characters and an intriguing plot, this is a real page turner' KATIE FFORDE praise for the series An addictive and unputdownable crime mystery novel perfect for fans of Agatha Christie, Dorothy L. Sayers, Faith Martin, J.R. Ellis, LJ Ross, Miss Marple and Midsummer Murders! Lesley Cookman's bestselling series featuring amateur sleuth Libby Sarjeant is back for its thirteenth instalment! Libby and the gang visit the Isle of Wight for the funeral of an old friend, whose death is (for once) entirely un-suspicious. Some elderly cousins of the deceased do however have an unexplained death in the family. Libby's best friend Harry seems to be somehow involved, and Libby is therefore determined to get to the bottom of the situation, and valiantly ignores the growing reluctance of the elderly cousins to help
